

Summary of Financial Assistance Policy

UW Health's Financial Assistance Program?

UW Health's financial assistance program helps people who are unable to pay for their medical care. You may be able to get financial assistance (help) if you have a tough time paying for care at UW Health, regardless of having insurance or not.

Who qualifies for financial assistance?

Financial assistance is based on a slide scale and looks at total household (family) income compared to the Federal Poverty Guidelines (FPG). Please read the full policy for more details.

- If you and/or your family's combined income is at or below 300% of the FPG, you may not have to pay for the care you receive at UW Health.
- If you fall between 300% and 500%, you may get a discount for your care. No one who qualifies for financial assistance will be charged more for emergency or other needed care than those with insurance.

Family Size	300% FPG	350% FPG	400% FPG	500% FPG
1	38,640	45,080	51,520	64,400
2	52,260	60,970	69,680	87,100
3	65,880	76,860	87,840	109,800
4	79,500	92,750	106,000	132,500
5	93,120	108,640	124,160	155,200
6	106,740	124,530	142,320	177,900
7	120,360	140,420	160,480	200,600
8	133,980	156,310	178,640	223,300

What services are covered?

The Financial Assistance Policy applies to emergency and other medically necessary care. These terms are defined in the policy. Elective services are excluded.

How do I apply?

To apply for financial assistance, you will need to complete a UW Health Financial Statement and provide supporting documentation as described in the Financial Assistance Policy and the Financial Statement.

How will I know if I qualify?

When your completed UW Health Financial Statement has been reviewed, you will receive a letter notifying you if you qualify for the program and if your balance has been reduced. Each visit may be reviewed separately. If you do not qualify for financial assistance, you may qualify for other assistance.
