Popcorn and a Movie!

Thursday from 8-9 pm

View a documentary about the journey of a heart that circled the globe from Wisconsin to Israel.

Keynote Speaker

We are honored and excited to have Murray Banks, a skilled educator and world champion athlete with a personal connection to organ donation, as our keynote speaker. Murray will arm attendees with four personal tools everyone can use to become leaders in their daily work and help us work through the obstacles we face on a daily basis that often keep us from letting our passion and skills shine through.

Plenary Presentation Topics

- Physician Role
- More for Families
- Research Consent
- Grief and Culture

Breakout Sessions Topics

- Transplant Program Waitlist Process
- Including Palliative Care in the Donation Process
- Tissue and Eye Donation
- Taking the Lead on Caring for Yourself
- Brain Death Ethics
- Clinical Donor Management

15th Douglas T. Miller Symposium on Organ Donation and Transplantation

May 14-15, 2015
Glacier Canyon Lodge at the Wilderness
45 Hillman Rd, Wisconsin Dells, WI

Purpose Statement

Together, we are a force for saving more lives through organ donation and transplantation. Among the nation's leaders in this field, we all, quite frankly, 'got this.' But, 'this' is a lot and new knowledge and great ideas are being shared every day. There are innovative and exciting new ways we can improve our work and ultimately, save more lives. Join us for an info-packed, fast paced, interactive experience that will leave you connected, excited and ready to apply new skills.

Attendees

Health care providers who are involved in the organ donation process, including physicians and health care professionals from ICU, CCU, ER, OR, pastoral care, social work, nurse managers, respiratory therapists, administrators and coroners.

Symposium Fee

There is no registration fee for the symposium, but advanced registration is required. Please register early; enrollment is limited!

Registration

The process is simple!

- 1) Go to uwotd.org
