Introducing one of the most advanced hospitals and wellness centers in the country.

For more than 165 years, the University of Wisconsin and UW Health have been committed to pioneering the science and delivery of health care. Never has that been more evident than today – as we prepare to open our newest facility. One part hospital, one part clinic, one part wellness center, UW Health at The American Center represents a new vision for health care. From the latest in surgical robots to in-room patient iPads, UW Health at The American Center was designed with the most advanced health care technologies in mind. All of which means better patient outcomes and a better patient experience. UW Health. Remarkable.
