In choosing a residency it is important to consider the community in which you will live and spend time away from work, and Madison has few peers. Come see for yourself! The following represent just a fraction of the accolades Madison has recently received in the national press:

2014
• Madison was named the greenest city in America by Nerdwallet
• Madison was named the "best college football town" in a USA Today poll

2013
• Madison was voted the "best place to live" in America by Money magazine
• UW Hospital and Clinics was named one of the top 50 employers for working parents by Working Mother magazine
• American Family Children’s Hospital is ranked among the nation’s top 50 pediatric hospitals in six medical and surgical specialties, according to this year’s U.S. News & World Report

2012
• For the second year in a row, the University of Wisconsin-Madison was ranked 19th among world universities in an annual survey done by Shanghai’s Jiao Tong University
• UW-Madison is one of only six American public universities to place in the top 20 and the highest in the Big Ten
• Bicycling Magazine ranked Madison #6 on its list of Bike-Friendly Cities

2011
• #1: America’s Best College Sports Town, ESPN – SVP Show
• #1: America’s Best City, Men’s Health Magazine
• #1: America’s Best Job Markets, Portfolio
• #3: America’s Best Cities for Young Professionals, Forbes Magazine

2010
• #1: Most Educated City in America, Men’s Health Magazine
• #1 Best Place to Live for College Grads, The Daily Beast.com
• #1 Best Place to Live in America, Outside Magazine

How to Apply

Application Instructions
Thank you for your interest in the University of Wisconsin Emergency Medicine Residency Program. We accept applications exclusively via the Electronic Residency Application Service (ERAS). We are a PGY 1-3 training program that participates in the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP) and adheres to all of their rules and regulations, including their deadlines.

Checklist for your ERAS Application
• Dean’s letter
• Medical School transcript
• Three letters of reference
• Applicants currently in another post-graduate training program must supply a letter from their current program director
• Personal Statement
• Recent Photograph (optional). This is not mandatory but we strongly encourage you to provide a current photo with your application as it helps us (and other programs) remember you from your interview when formulating our rank list
• Step 1 USMLE Score and Steps 2 & 3 Scores when available

Welcome to the University of Wisconsin Emergency Medicine Residency Training Program! We strive to give you the tools you need to learn more about our curriculum, our community, and some of what makes our residency unique. Our training program aims to give you skills that will be useful today, tomorrow, and over the course of your career. We will provide you with cutting-edge resources (e.g., multimedia educational platforms, real-time evaluative tools) so you can provide evidence-based care at the bedside, and make sure that as you gain experience, you will not lose sight of the reason you pursued a career in medicine in the first place.

At the University of Wisconsin, we have high aspirations for our residents. Our goal is to guide you through the demanding yet gratifying hard work you will need to do to reach your full potential, whether your interests and talents may be. We promise to deliver outstanding clinical and didactic experiences, along with wide exposure to the many facets of Emergency Medicine, taught by nationally-renowned educators, all within a close-knit community of support. Come grow with us!
