IMPROVING the Health of Our COMMUNITIES

With community partners, we're making sure every child in Madison schools has access to primary health care.

We support hundreds of community organizations in many ways. UW Health employees volunteer for United Way's Days of Caring.

Student-run MEDIC clinics provide care for underserved patients, one of many reasons UW School of Medicine and Public Health received the Association of American Medical Colleges Spencer Foreman Award for Outstanding Community Service in 2013.

Each year our faculty, staff, patients and families join Team UW Health to support many community events, including the American Heart Association's Heart Walk. In the last 10 years, Team UW Health has raised $574,300 for the Heart Walk.

Each year UW Health provides more than $225 million in benefits to the communities we serve, including more than $30 million in free or reduced-cost health care.

Service and social responsibility are inseparable from UW Health's patient care mission. We're grateful for strong local and regional partners who share our goal of healthier communities for everyone.
